

HORSES FOR COURSES: SUPERWEEK

FELT F4 $3,200

Superweek is the American crit racer's Tour de France: 17 days of 60-mile criteriums and 100-mile circuit races in the middle of July that beg for a race bike that can take a beating. Felt's carbon F4 frame provides a stiff, agile ride and comes with a solid, high-value mix of Shimano Ultegra and FSA components. Add on Zipp's ultra-versatile 303 tubulars and you'll have a bike ready to tackle any course. Castelli's SanRemo Speedsuit, used by Garmin-Cervélo in 2011, melds a skinsuit and classic jersey into one, combining the aerodynamic benefit of the former with the food storage and easy last-minute bathroom breaks of the latter. Mavic's Single Track glove, designed for mountain biking, will keep your hands in one piece in a pileup.

CASTELLI SANREMO
SPEEDSUIT $350

MAVIC SINGLE TRACK
